

Corporate Acquisition Search-Manufacturing

SBRGroup has been engaged by a major New England industrial company seeking acquisitions in the field of Injection Molding. Ideal candidates will have facilities in the eastern half of the country (USA). They must be involved in hi-technology materials, processes, materials or products. Of particular interest are optics and nano-technology level molding.

Also of interest to our client are precision metal stamping and precision plating with selective precious metal applications/technology in use.

All success fees are paid by our client.
